ABORIGINAL LIAISON OFFICER

Your Aboriginal Liaison Officer (ALO) provides support, advocacy and referral for Aboriginal people accessing community health and hospital services.

The ALO can:

- Advocate and support for Aboriginal clients and their families in relation to health and well-being
- Ensure the Aboriginal community have access to all Health services and are able to achieve positive health outcomes
- Liaise with the Health District, especially Community Health, and hospitals to ensure healthcare planning and provision addresses the needs of the Aboriginal community
- Support and assist hospital based Aboriginal clients and their families, including the Emergency Department
- Assist in creating a culturally appropriate environment for Aboriginal people to receive health care

Your local Aboriginal Liaison Officer (ALO) is located in the Lithgow Community Health Centre. The role covers the Lithgow and Blue Mountains communities, which includes Lithgow and Blue Mountains Hospitals.

Contact Sonia @ Community Health 63502750